The Benefits MasterCard will automatically verify prescription drugs and group-specific medical plan copayments (not coinsurance or deductibles), but the card is not yet capable of identifying all eligible medical purchases. For expenses not automatically verified, the law requires additional substantiation for approval. Please attach the necessary documentation. Documentation must include: (a) the patient receiving care; (b) a description of the service or product; (c) who delivered the product or service; (d) the date of service (this is often different from the paid or billed date); and (e) your final out-of-pocket responsibility. A credit card receipt will not satisfy all documentation requirements.
